

BEROWRA RSL CLUB PRIVACY POLICY

Berowra RSL Club (trading as Club Berowra) is subject to the provisions of the Privacy Act 1988 and the subsequent Privacy Amendment (Enhancing Privacy Protection) Act 2012. The Act outlines 13 Australian Privacy Principles that the Club must adhere to for the protection of personal information of members, visitors, and staff.

To consider any application made to the Club, under the Corporations and Registered Clubs Act it may be necessary for the Club to collect and display personal information such as a potential new member's name. If you are unable to consent to its display, the Club may be unable to accept your application.

Your personal information, including information about you obtained from you using your membership card for purchases or placing it into a club gaming machine (not the ATM) may be used by the Club for internal marketing purposes to improve our services and to provide you with the latest information about those services and any new related services and promotions.

Berowra RSL Club does not disclose any other personal information unless it is legally required to do so under current State and Federal legislation. The Club may disclose personal information to relevant authorities if it reasonably believes that there is a threat to an individual's life, health and safety, or public health or safety. If the Club has reason to suspect that unlawful activity has been, is being, or may be engaged in, personal information may be used or disclosed as a necessary part of any investigation and reporting to relevant persons or authorities.

Information collected via the scanning of a valid form of Australian Identification is protected by the Club and is not disclosed to any other party unless there is a legal requirement to do so. This information is collected and held for a period of seven days after which time it is deleted from the Club's systems. This information may be collated and used for marketing purposes.

If you do not wish to receive information about services and promotions, the Club, on request, will remove your name from mailing lists.

You have a right to access any personal information that the Club may hold about you, including a right of correction of your information. If amendment of your personal information is required, please contact the Club's Reception on 02 9456 1844.

If you require further information regarding this policy or would like to register a complaint, please contact the Chief Executive Officer.
